CLUB 21ST CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW
29th August 2025

Judge: Gavin Robertson (Soletrader)

PD 2(0)
1. Leech's Mochras Mahlord Rupert. Masculine headed dog, could be slightly shorter in foreface, medium stop, nice oval skull, good quality of bone, prefer straighter forelegs, moderate neck, good lay of shoulder, firm top-line, harsh body coat, correct tail set, has some width in his rear thighs, could be a little bit lower in hock, steady mover in profile, just needs to tighten in front, BPD
2. Thornton's Mochras Harald. Nicely balanced headpiece with equal proportions, moderate bone, could have a little bit more strength of foreface, dark eyes, correct length of neck, straight forelegs, feet a little flat, excellent body coat, good top-line drops off in croup a little, like 1 could be a little bit lower in hock, good proportions, just needs a little bit more confidence on the go round and develop in movement.

JD 4(1)
1. Thornton's Mochras Marmion. Won on his proportions, good size, moderate size bone to him, equal head proportions, could have a little more strength in muzzle, moderate stop, ears of good length, good neck, forelegs could be a little bit straighter, correct length of rib, prefer better tail set to him, moderate rear, he is a steady mover but prefer better tail carriage and stronger in hock but won on his balance and proportions.
2. Leech's Mochras Mahlord Rupert. Repeat.
3. Wederell's Rangali Infinity and Beyond.

LD 3(0)
Three mixed dogs, all have various qualities but different in type.
1. Thornton's Lantlollans Terrazze Dell 'Etna to Mochras NAF. Nicely balanced dog, good for size, correct proportions of body and leg, pleasing head but a little feminine, dark oval eye, moderate stop to him, prefer straighter forelegs, again correct length of neck, good depth of chest, firm top-line, prefer better tail set, moderate rear angulation, nice temperament, in profile he has good footfall, just prefer a better tail set and carriage, harsh body coat, nice breed type.
2. Ellrich's Malrich Firecracker. Nicely headed dog, equal head proportions, lovely skull to him, neat ears well set, moderate bone, a little flat in foot, deep chest, prefer less tuck up of belly, good top-line, has some spring to his rib but could be longer, moderate rear angulation, strong thick tail high set, low set hocks, excellent body coat, could be a little bit neater in front and preferred ribbing of 1.
3. Hayes/Hook's Rangali Yum Nut.

OD 4(0)
1. Venn's Mochras Marcellus. Typy dog, excellent proportions, very balanced, lovely headpiece to him, good skull, not overdone, moderate neck, could have better feet, has good bone to him, moderate chest, I liked his top-line, length of rib, well angled rear with low set hocks, ok tail set, nice jacket, not over-coated, on the go round he has some energy to him whilst still holding his shape, DCC
2. Jones' Laserna's Greatest Show Man JW. Masculine headed dog, nicely proportioned in head and skull, eye could be a fraction darker, good ears, nice quality of bone, strong neck, a little untidy in front but has a clean neck and backline with ribs of good length, moderate rear angulation, strong tail, low set hocks, dense harsh textured coat, steady mover in profile, just preferred the front on 1, RDCC

3. Fleming's Blevwil Zuma.

VD 1(0)
1. Allenby's Ch. Rangali Tigger. Strong dog, outgoing temperament, expressive dark eyes, moderate stop and I liked his skull, strength in foreface, good bone, a little flat in foot, strong neck, has some forechest, lovely deep chest to him, good spring of rib, high set tail, dense harsh coat, has some angle to his rear, hock could be a little lower, positive mover in profile, enjoying his day out, BVD

PB 1(0)
1. Blevins' Blevwil Anita Hug. Very feminine, lots to like about her, feminine head, good proportions of muzzle and skull, neat ears, lovely expression to her, she has a well made front to her, forelegs could be a fraction straighter but she has a well made front, moderate neck, good depth of chest for her age, ribs extend well back, good top-line, broad line to her, I liked her rear quarters with a high set tail, low set hocks, good body coat of texture, positive free mover with some energy, nice breed type, BPB

JB 2(1)
1. Blevins' Blevwil Rose Again. Correct size and a feminine look to her, lovely dark eyes to her, a little flat in skull and prefer more strength in muzzle, moderate neck, good bone and feet, has depth to her chest, prefer longer ribcage and shorter loin but she has a firm top-line with a high set tail, she really covers the ground well on the move, could have a bit more width of second thigh and a little bit lower in hock, has a harsh jacket.

LB 3(0)
1. Jones/Gregg's Wratthembray Nora Batty (AI). Very nice proportions to her and balance, moderate bone, could have a fraction more bone for ideal, equal head proportions, good skull to her, moderate stop, ideally like a little bit more strength in her foreface but neat ears, strong neck, has good chest to her, lovely straight forelegs, nice depth of chest with a firm top-line, short muscled loin, high set tail, moderate rear angulation, nice breed type to her, on the go round in profile she holds her shape, liked her type, RBCC

2. Revens/Hyde's Beabass Usha. Slightly stronger bitch than 1 but I liked her head proportions, moderate stop, good skull, eye a little round, prefer straighter forelegs but she has good bone, nice depth of chest to her, super harsh jacket, ribs of good length, strong high set thick tail, moderate rear angulation, steady mover, just preferred the type of 1.
3. Horn's Mochras Marionette.

OB 5(2)
1. Leech/Thornton's Ch. Mochras Mahgaux JW. Winner is the best balance in the class, she is nice to go over, I would scale her down in size but she has a balanced headpiece, strong skull, good strength of foreface to her, moderate forechest, front legs could be a little bit straighter but good quality of bone, nice deep chest to her, well sprung ribs, super top-line with a high set tail, harsh coat, moderate rear angulation, hock could be a little shorter but on the go round she holds her shape with some reach and drive covering the ground well.
2. Allenby's Ch. Rangali Pixie JW. Nicely balanced headpiece to her, equal head proportions, lovely skull with neat ears, correct quality of bone, a little bit loose in her front, moderate neck, lovely depth of chest with spring to her rib, ribs could be a fraction longer, she has a super dense harsh coat, she has a firm top-line to feel, strong tail, moderate rear angulation, in profile she covers the ground, just not as neat in front as 1 up and down but has good breed parts to her.

3. Leech's Mochras Mahmalade by Jamchala JW.

VB 1(0)
1. Leech/Thornton's Ch. Mochras Mahcushla Ir Jun Ch. They always say save the best til last, lovely breed type to her, very balanced, good proportions to her, her head is feminine, equal muzzle and skull, moderate stop, she has the correct moderate neck length, balanced front assembly with good bone, lovely depth, deep chest with excellent well sprung ribs, firm top-line, she has a muscled compact loin, good rear hindquarters to her, lovely tail, the breed asks for moderate throughout without being extreme and that she is, super coat and steady mover on the go round, lovely breed type, BCC & BVB.
